LIFESTYLE COOKWARE AT IT'S BEST

Introducing the Quarter Acre Pot – every kiwis cooking dream designed for your convenience - to be used indoor or outdoor for cooking healthy, nutritious and delicious meals.

The Quarter Acre Pot is a simple to use non-electrical multifunctional appliance that can be used as a:
•Thermo Cooker
•Cooler
•Bain-Marie
•Rice Cooker
•Yoghurt Maker

Due to the technology of the Quarter Acre Pot, your food - which is placed in the inner pot and boiled at temperature – can be transferred to the outer pot where it will retain its heat and continue to cook slowly without further supervision. Alternatively the QAP can be used as an ice box keeping food or drinks chilled.

The Quarter Acre Pot contains two stainless steel inner pots which are designed to be used as you would your usual saucepans at home they can be used on either electricity or gas stoves. The Quarter Acre Pot has a convenient and safe lock/unlock handle for extra safety while traveling. The outer pot is insulated with special heat insulating material. (Not unlike what you find in your fridge at home).
